Cyber Security & Training.

In today's data driven, highly distributed world, companies now use the internet to undertake the very basic of business tasks, to advertise and sell, find new markets, customers and staff, engage customers and suppliers, process financial transactions, amongst others. The course is suitable for every individual / business that uses a computer or any Internet enabled device. This course is essential for all organizations, of all sizes, and in all sectors. This includes companies in the private sector, entrepreneurs, business owners, SMEs, general non-IT professionals, universities, charities, and public sector organizations

Search Engine Optimization (SEO)

Our in-house expert SEO consultants are qualified professionals with many years of experience. We work alongside you to develop effective search engine optimization strategies from SEO friendly web design to keyword research, content creation, copywriting, link building, SEO submissions, website analysis, Internet marketing, SEO training amongst others.

Design & Branding

We are a professional, affordable graphic design and brand management company well versed in a range of creative design mediums from corporate ID to print and online product design. We work with various sectors and industries from churches & charities to SMEs and larger corporations. Our creative designers work on print media including flyers, posters, leaflets, brochures, book covers or anything else that matters to the highest specification.

Mobile Application Design

At Rhics we understand mobile applications inside out, be it Android, Blackberry or iOS applications. We can recommend to you on what works and doesn't work to ensure your mobile app has the most engaging functionality and design. We can design and develop great looking native or web based applications with awesome features and functionality for your mobile platform choice. By working with you to design, build, launch and promote applications, we will ensure you have a strong brand identity and presence in the mobile sector.

Events & Conferences – Branding | Marketing | Ticketing

Rhics provides a unique event design and management service that focuses on utilizing IT towards the successful delivery of global events. Our event design strategy is underpinned by our holistic approach to managing your event through the use of IT. We apply validated IT & digital strategies to every aspect of your event to create an engaging experience with your audience.

Digital Marketing Visibility, Credibility & Profitability

Our digital marketing strategy focuses on creating visibility and building credibility that leads to profitability. We achieve this by engaging with consumers effectively on several digital platforms that they utilize daily, serving the right marketing content.
